Dear Quilting Friends,

Members of the Spinning Spools Quilt Guild are excited to announce our new quilt show in Auburn IN. We invite you and your group of quilting friends to participate in the Labor Day weekend HOME OF THE CLASSICS QUILT SHOW, August 29,30,31 2008. NATMUS (National Automobile and Truck Museum) which is behind the Auburn Cord Duesenberg Museum has opened up its space for this quilting event. The site is an official shuttle bus stop for the Auburn Cord Duesenberg Festival and free parking is available near the venue.

Expect to see your Juried and General Display quilts displayed among the beautiful classic vehicles in the 10 quilting technique categories with divisions of amateur, professional, or student division. 1st Place Winners will receive $100. Awards and door prizes are part of the show, too.

Edyta Sitar of Laundry Basket Quilts in Marshall MI is our guest designer and instructor. Plan to attend the Thursday night Preview Block Party when Edyta will share her lovely quilts and tell the Reasons for Quilting. Be among the first to view the winning quilts, enjoy delicious appetizers, shop in the Vendor's Mall and talk with some of the top quilters. Friday is the official opening of the HOME OF THE CLASSICS QUILT SHOW and pre-registered students will learn from Edyta's 6-hour workshop, Stars in Quilts. Sewing Sewlutions Quilt Shop, of Angola, IN has agreed to furnish Viking sewing machines during the class time. Two-hour mini seminars highlighting Edyta's Appliqué Techniques Medley take place twice on Saturday's schedule. Sunday allows for leisurely viewing of the quilt exhibit and shopping opportunities.

This preliminary HOME OF THE CLASSICS QUILT SHOW booklet includes all of the information you will need for registering and participating in the upcoming exhibit. Please share or copy the content as needed. Please address your questions and comments through the contact information given above. We look forward to working with you soon.

Cordially,

Spinning Spools Quilt Guild
